The number of borrowers (active RR, collection-only RR and FO and ORE with RR) with RR loans decreased from 47,640 to 44,491 between June 30, 1945 and June 30, 1946 (see Table I). The decrease in the number of such borrowers occurred in all states with West Virginia reporting the largest absolute and proportionate decrease. The number of borrowers with delinquent RR accounts increased in Kentucky and Tennessee and decreased in the other states. The percent of borrowers with delinquent RR accounts increased in Kentucky and Tennessee and decreased slightly in the other states (see columns 6 and 7, Table I).

The amount delinquent by all borrowers with RR loans in the region increased from $5,324,751 as of June 30, 1945 to $5,652,415 as of June 30, 1946, an increase of $327,664. West Virginia was the only state to report a decrease in the amount of delinquent RR accounts during the past year. West Virginia also reported the highest percent of borrowers delinquent as of June 30, 1945 and as of June 30, 1946 (see columns 6 and 7, Table I). The increase in the amount delinquent by states is as follows: Kentucky $82,703; North Carolina $163,210; Tennessee $74,560; and Virginia $39,370. The percentage increase by states is as follows: Kentucky 13.2%; North Carolina 7.0%; Tennessee 14.4%; and Virginia 3.6%.

The number of active RR, FO and ORE borrowers with RR loans decreased from 36,856 as of June 30, 1945 to 33,921 as of June 30, 1946. The decrease occurred in all states as shown by columns 2 and 3 in Table II. The percent of active RR, FO and ORE borrowers delinquent on RR loans increased in Kentucky and Tennessee and decreased in the other states (columns 6 and 7, Table II). The amount delinquent increased in Kentucky and Tennessee and decreased slightly in the other states. The net decrease for the region amounted to $18,129--from $2,226,116 as of June 30, 1945 to $2,207,987 as of June 30, 1946.

III. Collection-Only RR Borrowers

With the exception of North Carolina, the number of collection-only borrowers decreased slightly between June 30, 1945 and June 30, 1946 (columns 2 and 3, Table III). The number of collection-only borrowers delinquent increased in all states except West Virginia, however, the percent of collection-only borrowers delinquent increased in all states during the past fiscal year.

The amount delinquent by collection-only borrowers in the region increased from $3,098,635 as of June 30, 1945 to $3,444,428 as of June 30, 1946, an increase of $345,793. The amount of the increase by states is as follows: Kentucky $38,540; North Carolina $220,935; Tennessee $13,418; Virginia $46,235; and West Virginia $26,665.

IV. Delinquency Status of Borrowers With RR Accounts as of September 30, 1946

As of September 30, 1946 the percent of active RR borrowers delinquent on RR loans ranged from 22.3% in Tennessee to 38.3% in West Virginia. Districts 4 and 6 in North Carolina, all districts in Virginia and all districts in West Virginia reported more than 30% of their active borrowers delinquent. District 6 in North Carolina led all other districts with 52.4% of all active borrowers reported as delinquent.

The percent of delinquent active RR borrowers who have been delinquent more than one year ranges from 20.8% in Tennessee to 49% or more in the other states. Approximately two-thirds of all delinquent borrowers had been delinquent more than one year in district 4 in Kentucky, districts 3, 5 and 6 in North Carolina, district 1 in Virginia and district 2 in West Virginia. Also, there were six other districts in the region reporting more than 50% of their delinquent active borrowers as delinquent more than one year.

The percent of FO and ORE borrowers with delinquent RR loans ranged from 9.4% in Tennessee to 25.9% in West Virginia. More than one-fourth of the FO and ORE borrowers with delinquent RR loans in the region had been delinquent more than one year.

The percent of collection-only borrowers delinquent ranged from 88.5% in Kentucky to 96.2% in North Carolina. At least 93.0% of the delinquent collection-only borrowers in all states had been delinquent more than one year (see Table IV, column 13).

V. Minimum Amount to be Collected 1947 Fiscal Year and Amount Collected Through September 30, 1946

A. RR Accounts of Active RR, FO and ORE Borrowers (Table V).

Column 4 in Table V shows the minimum amount to be collected on RR accounts of active RR, FO and ORE borrowers during the 1947 fiscal year for each state and district. In Region IV, through September, $2,519,029 had been collected and applied to maturities. This amount represents 25.98% of the minimum amount to be collected during the fiscal year. Since this period is within the heavy "collection season" in North Carolina, this state had collected 38.83% of the minimum amount to be collected. Column 7 shows the percent which collections through September represent of the minimum amount to be collected.

It will be noted that collections through September representing the percent of the minimum amount to be collected ranges in North Carolina from 9.80% in district 3 to 61.08% in district 5. The sale of tobacco accounts for the major source of collections in district 5. From column 9 in Table V it is seen that $224,616 had been collected in the region and applied to prepayments.

B. RR Accounts of Collection-Only RR, FO and ORE Borrowers (Table VI).

Of the $3,592,007 representing the minimum amount to be collected from collection-only borrowers in Region IV, $3,444,428 represents delinquencies on June 30, 1946 and $147,579 is reported as maturing during the 1947 fiscal year. The amount maturing during the 1947 fiscal year represents from 3.0% in Virginia to 5.6% in Kentucky of the minimum amount to be collected on RR accounts of collection-only RR, FO and ORE borrowers. Collections on maturities through September ranged from 0.70% of the minimum amount ($1,618,964) to be collected in North Carolina to 3.17% in West Virginia (see column 7, Table VI). If collections continue at the same rate during the remainder of the year in North Carolina as during the first quarter only 2.80% or $45,200 of the $1,618,964 will be collected during the entire fiscal year.

Through September $3,909 had been collected on RR accounts of collection-only RR, FO and ORE borrowers and applied as prepayments (column 9, Table VI).
